As you are a college student who has taken this test and we do not yet know which type of degree you are pursuing currently, hence we have given you a first level fitment of careers which match your Personality Code spread across all three basic streams of study. For a college student the decision of career and further education is very important and of urgent nature. To help you make this decision we need a lot of other inputs from you like what degree you are currently pursuing, whether you want to continue that degree or not, what were your basic subjects at +2 level. How comfortable are you to study further – or are you in need of a job immediately etc.

We can help you make a very scientific and good decision! Please enroll in our Career Guidance program so that we can learn more about your aptitude, interest and aspiration and then help you arrive at the right career fitment.

Career Guidance Test

The Science Behind

This test is based on the internationally approved Holland's theory of Vocational Personalities in Work Environments (RIASEC), commonly known as Holland Codes theory. The RIASEC model maintains that in choosing a career, people search for environments that will let them use their skills and abilities, and express their attitudes and values, while taking on enjoyable problems and roles. The Holland Code is the key, or at least one of the keys, to finding a compatible career.

Holland theory is based on the premise that there are 6 work environments and 6 vocational areas. A good match between the employee's interests and the vocational area will lead to job success and job satisfaction.

The six Vocational Personality types in the RIASEC model are:

An In-depth look into RIASEC

Investigative

A person with this Occupational Interest tends to focus on ideas. They enjoy collecting and analyzing data and information. They are curious and tend to be creative and original. Investigative types are task oriented, and tend to prefer loosely structured situations with minimal rules or regulations, although some structure contributes to their creativity.

Characteristics

Reserved, Independent, Analytical

Realistic

A person with this Occupational Interest likes to work with their hands, focus on things in the physical world and use physical skills. They like to explore places and things and frequently have a desire for adventure. They like to repair and make things with their hands, tools, and machines. They prefer outdoor work.

Characteristics

Stable, Assertive, Practical

Artistic

A person with this Occupational Interest is the most creative of all the types and tend to focus on self-expression through various forms/mediums: images, materials, music, words, movement, as well as systems and programs. They are able to see possibilities in various settings and are not afraid to experiment with their ideas. They like variety and tend to feel cramped in structured situations.

Characteristics

Intuitive, Creative, Expressive

Social

A person with this Occupational Interest is concerned with people and their welfare. Social types make friends easily and tend to have well developed communications skills. They enjoy working with groups or individuals, using empathy and an ability to identify and solve problems, and tend to be high achievers and good leaders.

Characteristics

Humanistic, Verbal, Interpersonal

Enterprising

A person with this Occupational Interest is goal-oriented and desires to see results. They work with and through people, providing leadership and delegating responsibilities for organisational and/or financial gains. These people tend to function with a high degree of energy. They prefer business settings, and often want social events to have a purpose beyond socialising.

Characteristics

Persuasive, Confident, Leadership Skills

Conventional

A person with this Occupational Interest is oriented towards completing tasks initiated by others. They pay attention to detail, and prefer to work with data, particularly in the numerical, statistical, and record-keeping realm. They have a high sense of responsibility, follow the rules, and want to know precisely what is expected of them.

Characteristics

Conscientious, Efficient, Orderly

Is Personality Code enough to Make a Career Decision?

Personality code is just one aspect of your career decision. The right career choice is the one in which an individual's personality, interest and aptitude are all considered.
